we are not alone

sometime we feel like God have forgotten us!

sometime we think, do he
really care?

sometime we think the way get darker and the light just wont shine through

no one could understand the emptiness that only you share if only someone cared,

sometime he give us
so much love, we need!
to make us know he
really care.

so much strength
to make us go from day to day.

sometime he give us so much love to know he is always there!
